MARCH HEALTH EDUCATION AND WELLNESS PROGRAM - MENTAL HEALTH MONTH: Anxiety is the body's reaction to distress or uneasiness caused by real, anticipated, or perceived danger or misfortune. This state of apprehension causes the body to exhibit the disturbing physical and emotional symptoms of the "fight or flight" response. A small amount of anxiety is normal, and some is even beneficial. However, some people live in a constant state of anxiety. Sometimes, the reasons for the anxious state are known and can be controlled, while some have no identifiable cause at all. This kind of anxiety can become overwhelming or even incapacitating. March's packet will look at the causes and symptoms of anxiety, how to manage it, different types of relaxation techniques, and when to seek help. Packets will be available at all three Medical facilities in March. (MD)
